The Communist Manifesto was written in 1848 as an inflammatory outcry against capitalist exploitation of the working class. The manifesto calls upon workers of the world to unite and revolt against their oppressors, to abolish private property and free enterprise, and to form a kind of workers' community in which everyone would have an equal share. This edition of the Communist Manifesto has been especially prepared by Francis B. Randall, Ph.D., who is currently on the social science faculty of Sarah Lawrence College. His introduction reflects a new approach to the understanding of Marxist theory. The Communist Manifesto was translated by Samuel Moore and revised for the modern reader by Joseph Katz. Special features of this edition include Engels' famous preface to the edition of 1888, plus six other important but lesser-known prefaces.

A spectre is haunting Europe—the spectre of Communism. So begins one of history's most important documents, a work of such magnitude that it has forever changed not only the scope of world politics but indeed the course of human civilization. The Communist Manifesto was written in Friedrich Engels's clear, striking prose and declared the earth-shaking ideas of Karl Marx. Upon publication in 1848, it quickly became the credo of the poor and oppressed who longed for a society in which the free development of each is the condition for the free development of all. The Communist Manifesto contains the seeds of Marx's more comprehensive philosophy, which continues to inspire influential economic, political, social, and literary theories. But the manifesto is most valuable as an historical document, one that led to the greatest political upheavals of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and to the establishment of the Communist governments that until recently ruled half the globe. This Bantam Classic edition of the Communist Manifesto includes Marx and Engels's historic 1872 and 1882 prefaces and Engels's notes and prefaces to the 1883 and 1888 editions.
